The Virginia Journal AND ALEXANDRIA ADVERTISER.

HUC UNDIQUE GAZA CONGERITUR VIRG.

(VOL. I.) THURSDAY, AUGUST 26, 1784. (No. 30.)

On Tuesday the Fifth Day of October next, if fair, if not the next fair Day, will be sold to the highest Bidder,

THE Subscriber's late dwelling Plantation in Charles County, about six miles below Piscataway, and on the main road leading from that place to Port-Tobacco; it contains about 580 acres, is well stocked with wood and timber, the soil is of the first quality, and a large proportion of it is valuable meadow ground. The improvements are a good dwelling-house, all the usual out-houses, and an excellent apple orchard. The water is fine and the situation uncommonly healthy. Credit for three years, if required, will be given upon paying one third annually.

S. HANSON, of Samuel.

Aug. 15, 1784.

THE WINCHESTER POST-RIDER would be much obliged to the Gentlemen of this town who have encouraged his riding by their generous Subscriptions, if they would deposit a part thereof in the hands of Mr. RICHARDS, with whom the subscription-paper is lodged, as he is now in much want of a little money to defray his expences.

TWENTY POUNDS REWARD.

RAN away from the Subscriber, on the 3d. of July last, a NEGRO MAN named ELLICK, calls himself Alexander Lucas, formerly belonged to some of the Lucas's near Eastern Branch ferry, Maryland, about 27 years of age, a strong able well set fellow, 5 feet 10 inches high; he is an artful cunning villain, very talkative at times, will make any alleverations to gain his ends, speaks sometimes in the Dutch dialect, is very handy with the broadaxe, or carpenters coarse tools, or any farming or planting business, a tolerable good waggoner being accustomed to it, has made several journies to Philadelphia and Baltimore, under Mr. Patrick Cavan, merchant in Leesburg, executor of Doctor James Courtsman deceased, of which estate I purchased him: The clothes he took away, are such as people of his condition do not generally wear, viz. a new coarse green cloth coat, spotted with red and white intermixed, a new red striped linen coat, a new jacket nearly the same, with backs of plains, an old coarse linen ditto, a pair of new white cloth breeches, a pair of yellow ditto twilled, an old pair blue cloth ditto, a new white linen shirt, cambrick neck band, two old brown shirts, a pair of black leather stockings, a pair thread ditto, an old fine hat, bound with black, an old coarse ditto, shoes and buckles, and an old knapsack. It is expected he may endeavour to get on board some vessel, but it is hoped should he make the attempt he will be apprehended. Whoever brings the said Negro to the subscriber near Rockey-Run church, in Loudon county, shall receive FIVE DOLLARS if taken twenty miles from home, and in proportion for a greater or less distance, to the amount of the above Reward.

WILLIAM BERNARD SEARS.

Loudon County, Virginia, August 5, 1784.

COPENHAGEN, April 26.

SINCE the revolution of the 14th every thing has been quiet. Our Sovereign has preſented the Queen Dowager with the caſtle of Frederichſruke, near to Itzeoch, with all its appurtenances, and to Prince Frederick his brother, the territory of Hanereau, in Holſtein, with permiſſion both to the Queen and the Prince, to diſpoſe of them as they pleaſe; the Queen Dowager has on her part preſented the Prince Royal with a magnificent golden tea-ſervice.

Legborn, April 21. Several letters mention that the fleet of the Bey of Tunis, conſiſting of ſixteen galleys, chebecs, &c. ſailed a few days ago in ſearch of the Venetians. It is reported that thoſe corſairs have already taken four Venetian veſſels coming from the Levant, and four more, ignorant of the war, were ſtopped and taken in the ports of that African regency. The King of Naples, the Pope, and in general all the ſouthern Catholic powers of Europe have declared in favour of the Venetians, and no doubt but the time is approaching when the piratic powers will be puniſhed as they deſerve.

Paris, May 7. Prince Edward, otherwiſe known by the title of Count Albany, is not dead, as the letters from Rome, and the Mercure-de-France had announced. This Pretender to the throne of England, it is true, was at the laſt extremity, from a watery humour which had fallen in upon his breaſt; but thoſe about him having the precaution to cauterize his legs, the dropſy vaniſhed, and he received immediate relief. This momentary cure, however, will not probably preſerve him long. He is indebted for it, under the Almighty, to the M. S. Labre, of Florence, who was called in by the dying Prince.

Amſterdam, May 10. We have received advices, that the ſhip Javer, returning from the Eaſt-Indies, a commotion happened on board her. For want of Europeans, they had been obliged to employ ſome Chineſe ſailors, who mutinied, and Mr. Jacob Cornelis Mattheus Rademaker, councellor in ordinary; Captain Lieutenant Nanning Mennings de Jong; and Mr. Pierre Gem, Firſt Lieutenant, were maſſacred, with two other perſons, and ſix more were dangerouſly wounded.

Letters from the Berbices of the firſt of March announce, that the ſaid colony was left in the beſt order and tranquility by the French on the 22d of February; and that on the 14th the flag of the Republic was hoiſted at Naſſau fort.

L'Orient, May 12. The council of war, which has been ſitting here for near two months on the affairs of the engagement in the Weſt-Indies, in April, 1782, is juſt concluded, and we learn that the following are to come under cenſure: Two Captains to be caſhiered, and rendered forever incapable of ſerving, for inattention to the ſignals of the Commander in Chief of that diviſion; one ſecond Captain to be caſhiered, and impriſoned four years; three marine officers the ſame ſentence; twenty ſeven petty officers to be degraded, and to receive a corporal puniſhment, among whom is the cadet who ſtruck the flag of the Glorieux.

LONDON, May 20.

Extract of a letter from a gentleman at Antwerp.

"Of all the Princes in Europe, none ſeem more ſteadily to promote the happineſs of their ſubjects, than the Emperor. In all his ſchemes and objects he is cautious and deliberate, but reſolute and perſevering: He ſeems determined to reſtore Antwerp to its ancient ſplendor, when it was the emporium of the European continent, though lately celebrated only for its convents and nunneries, its pictures, tapeſtry, and thread lace ſhops, &c. About 200 years ago the Dutch, taking advantages of the weakneſs of the Auſtrian government, ſunk ſeveral large ſhips laden with ſtores in the mouth of the Scheld, the river which comes up to this city; 1584 they built fort Lillo, as if to ſupport their intention of carrying all the trade of Antwerp to Amſterdam; oppoſite to Lillo the Emperor is raiſing fort Joſeph. The Dutch will in all probability pay for their treachery and cruelty to the inhabitants of Antwerp, who were their confederates in the cauſe of liberty. Several eminent traders and merchants arrive in this city daily to ſettle in it."

Letters from Vienna, dated May 4, declare, that a treaty of marriage is on foot between the Archduke Francis, nephew to the Emperor, and the Princeſs Frederica Elizabeth, niece to the Duke of Wirtemberg, a young Princeſs of uncommon beauty, and highly accompliſhed.

June 10. By advice from Poland we hear, that on the 7th of April the Montenegrins, who have revolted againſt their Sovereign, the Grand Signior, gave battle on the banks of the Marizza, to 40,000 Janiſſaries, Arnots and Tamariots, led by Begler Bey, of Upper Albany: The latter were defeated. After the action, the conquerors deſpoiled the dead, and thus caught the infection of the plague, which then raged in the Turkiſh Army.

June 12. Orders are gone down to every ſea-port town in England, not to admit ſhips from the Streights into port, or any of the crew to come on ſhore, or any perſon to go on board, till they ſhall have performed quarantine.

June 18. The Friendſhip, Cleaves, from Virginia to London, is on ſhore at the back of the Iſle of Wight.

The propoſition which Mr. Pitt is to bring forward reſpecting India, happily differs as much from Mr. Fox's, as from poiſon is its antidote.

June 21. The diſpoſitions of Mr. Pitt remain, according to the original declarations of himſelf, unreſervedly in favour of parliamentary reform.

CHARLESTON, (South-Carolina) July 24.

Extract of a letter from London, May 5.

"There cannot remain a doubt, from the numberleſs new extraordinary projects which the French are now adopting, that the court of France expect and are providing for another war, in which it is more than probable America will be the ſubject of diſpute and bone of contention between England and the French cabinet. There are in France 157,000 pariſhes, and her miniſter has lately introduced a propoſal that each of theſe may be obliged to keep one ſeaman for the King's ſervice, which meaſure is now, abſolutely in contemplation to be adopted. Theſe, with the regiſtry of ſailors at Marſeilles, Toulon, Breſt, and Rochfort, will give near 200,000 ſeamen to the navy of France upon an emergency, at a few months notice. Theſe matters loudly call upon us for a very deliberate conſideration, in the preſent critical ſituation of affairs of this country."

NEW-YORK, Auguſt 6.

For the benefit of thoſe Captains of veſſels bound to Liſbon, we think it neceſſary to take this method to inform them, that, unleſs they carry bills of health, they will not be permitted to go on ſhore, on any pretence whatever, till after they have lain there ſome weeks.

Auguſt 10. Capt. White, in the brig Zephyr, lately arrived at New-London from Kingſton in Jamaica, informs that veſſels belonging to the United States are not allowed upon any conſideration to trade at that port: He was 37 days in going to and returning from Jamaica.

Saturday laſt the ſchooner Fairy, Capt. Hudſon, bound from Dominique to the coaſt of Africa, was brought in here by the people, in oppoſition to the Captain.

No material advices are received by the late arrivals. The contention between Mr. Fox and Sir Cecil Wray are ſtill in exiſtence, and was ſuppoſed by many would terminate in favour of the latter.

PHILADELPHIA, Auguſt 17.

The Legiſlature have, we hear, appointed Col. Harmer, commandant of the troops to be raiſed, according to the recommendation of Congreſs, for the defence of the frontier poſts, which are ſtill held by the Britiſh, but are to be ſurrendered as ſoon as the American troops appear to take poſſeſſion.

Captain Douglaſs, of Col. Proctor's late regiment of artillery, is alſo appointed commandant of the train to be embodied for the ſame purpoſe.

Extract of a letter from Charleſton, South-Carolina, July 22.

"It is confidently ſaid that a very ſevere action has happened between an Engliſh and French veſſel, off the banks of Newfoundland, occaſioned by the latter having refuſed to pay the homage of ſtriking her colours."

BALTIMORE, Auguſt 20.

Extract of a letter from a Gentleman in Dublin, to another in this town, dated May 24, 1784.

"The ſtate of this country is at preſent alarming—were it not for the general obſervation, that there have been too many words for blows. We never had a more venal parliament—every deſire of the people denied, burthenſome taxes, and other reſtrictions inimical to liberty enacted; the conſequence of which is, that all deſcriptions of people here were never more irritated. The volunteer cauſe, which had been on the decline for a length of time, is now increaſing rapidly, all ranks of people attending the different parades to be taught the uſe of arms. On Sunday next the volunteers of this diſtrict are to have a field-day, when I may ſay there will be an addition of ſix thouſand or more recruits. Delegates are to meet to conſult on a ſuitable mode for cloathing and arming ſuch as may be deemed proper, ſeveral thouſands offering themſelves: No leſs than Four Hundred and Eighty Taylors have offered to join the independent Dublin volunteers, to clothe and arm themſelves, but to pay no ſubſcription.

"The Right Honorable Edmund Sexton Perry, having reſigned his office as Speaker to the Houſe of Commons, that deteſted miſcreant John Foſter, has been elected in his ſtead. In conſequence of this change, the former printer hath loſt his place, and beſtowed by Foſter on the printer of the Volunteer Journal, the paper which was moſt forward in expoſing to view his odious conduct, and the publication of inflammatory paragraphs and eſſays. This douceur will, probably, effect a change in the political ſentiments of Mr. TYPE, by which he will only follow the example of greater villains in more elevated ſituations."

ALEXANDRIA, Auguſt 26.

On Monday laſt his Excellency General WASHINGTON, the Marquis de la FAYETTE, and the Chevalier CARAMAN, honoured the Gentlemen of this Town with their Company to a Dinner which was provided for them at Mr. Lomax's Tavern.

Yeſterday arrived here the Ship Stanley, Capt. Wood, in Eleven Weeks from Liverpool.

The Ship Neptune, from Virginia, bound to London, having ſprung a Leak, was obliged to put into New-York to refit.

The Brig Active, Capt. Ludlam, arrived at Philadelphia, the 17th Inſt. in 8 Weeks from London, with whom came Paſſengers a Number of Gentlemen and their Families, &c.

In GENERAL ASSEMBLY, the 22*d of June*, 1784.

The ADDRESS of the General Aſſembly, to GEORGE WASHINGTON, Eſquire.

THE Repreſentatives of this Commonwealth would be unfaithful to the ſentiments of their conſtituents, as well as do violence to their own, did they omit this occaſion of congratulating you on the firſt eſtabliſhment of peace, which has taken place ſince their laſt meeting; and on the opportunity which this event has given for you to return to the felicities of private life. We ſhall ever remember, Sir, with affection and gratitude, the patriotic exchange which you made of theſe felicities, for the ſevere taſk of conducting the arms of your country through a conflict with one of the moſt powerful nations of the earth. We ſhall ever remember with admiration, the wiſdom which marked your councils on this arduous occaſion, the firmneſs and dignity which no trials of adverſe fortune could ſhake; the moderation and equanimity which no ſcenes of triumph could diſturb; nor ſhall we ever forget the exemplary reſpect which in every inſtance you have ſhewn to the rights of civil authority, or the exalted virtue which on many occaſions led you to commit to danger your fame itſelf, rather than hazard for a moment the true intereſt of your country. In reviewing theſe merits we feel every impreſſion which they are calculated to make on grateful and affectionate minds; and we fervently pray that they may be rewarded with every bleſſing of which this life will admit, and with complete happineſs in that which is to come.

June 24, 1784. Agreed to by the Senate unanimouſly.

WILLIAM DREW, Clerk S.

A joint Committee of the two Houſes of Aſſembly was appointed to wait on the General, and preſent the foregoing Addreſs, to wit:

On the part of the Houſe of Delegates Mr. Jones, (of King George) Mr. Grayton, Mr. Brent, Mr. Henderſon, and Mr. Weſt; and on the part of the Senate, Mr. Baſſet, Mr. Henry Lee, and Mr. Fitzhugh.

The ſaid Committee accordingly waited upon the General at his ſeat at Mount-Vernon, and preſented

the Addreſs, to which he was pleaſed to return the following anſwer:—

"GENTLEMEN,

WITH feelings which are more eaſy to be conceived than expreſſed, I meet and reciprocate the congratulations of the Repreſentatives of this Commonwealth, on the final eſtabliſhment of peace.

"Nothing can add more to the pleaſure which ariſes from a conſcious diſcharge of public truſt, than the approbation of one's country.—To have been ſo happy, under a viciſſitude of fortune, amidſt the difficult and trying ſcenes of an arduous conflict, as to meet this, is, in my mind, to have attained the higheſt honour; and the conſideration of it, in my preſent peaceful retirement, will heighten all my domeſtic joys, and conſtitute my greateſt felicity.

"I ſhould have been truly wanting in my duty, and muſt have fruſtrated the great and important object for which we reſorted to arms, if, ſeduced by a temporary regard of fame, I had ſuffered the paultry love of it to have interfered with my country's welfare, the intereſt of which, was the only inducement which carried me to the field, or permitted the ſacred rights of civil authority, though but for a moment, to be violated and infringed by a power, meant originally to reſcue and confirm them.

"For thoſe rewards and bleſſings which you have invoked for me in this world, and for the fruition of that happineſs which you pray for in that which is to come, you have, Gentleman, all my thanks, and all my gratitude. I wiſh I could inſure them to you, and the State you repreſent, an hundred fold.

GEORGE WASHINGTON."

Virginia,
In GENERAL ASSEMBLY, the 22d day of June, 1784.

RESOLVED, That the executive be requeſted to take meaſures for procuring a ſtatue of General WASHINGTON, to be of the fineſt marble and beſt workmanſhip, with the following inſcription on its pedeſtal, viz.

"The General Aſſembly of the Commonwealth "of Virginia, have cauſed this ſtatue to be erected "as a monument of affection and gratitude to "GEORGE WASHINGTON, who, uniting to "the endowments of the Hero, the virtues of the "Patriot, and exerting both, in eſtabliſhing the "liberties of his Country, has rendered his name "dear to his fellow citizens, and given the world "an immortal example of true Glory.—Done in "the year of Chriſt ——, and in the year of the "Commonwealth ——."

POETRY.

CATO's ADVICE.

I.

"SAYS Cato why should man repine
When time hath silver'd o'er his hair?
Why should it grieve him to resign
A place replete with toils and care?
Can all the pleasure youth enjoys
Attract the wise man's sober thought,
Or make him sigh for infant toys,
And think his wisdom dearly bought?

II.

Ah! no—he sees beyond the grave
A nobler prospect op'ning wide,
That bids his soul Death's terrors brave
With Hope and Virtue on his side.
His hoary head with honour crown'd
Draws rev'rence from both old and young,
Who, all attention, wait around,
To hear rich wisdom from his tongue.

III.

With pleasure he his children views,
A well instructed, blooming train,
Whose filial cares new life infuse,
And soothe him on the bed of pain.
In youth let Virtue be thy guide,
Her golden rules with joy obey,
Serenely then thine age will glide,
Nor fear to mix with native clay."

FOR SALE,

That beautiful Seat MOUNT-FELICITY, in the County of Berkeley in the State of Virginia, where the Subscriber lives, containing 1125 Acres:

FEW Tracts of Land possess as many advantages as this—Bullskin, a fine never failing limestone stream running nearly through the middle of it affords conveniencies and advantages rarely to be met with, particularly two very fine mill seats, one of which has a fall of twenty two feet nine inches; and from the stream a large quantity of meadow may be watered. The soil is rich, the land level, well timbered and but little broken with the limestone, about four hundred acres of the land are cleared and in excellent order for cropping, every field having a communication with the water and under good fences.—There are about forty acres of fine Timothy meadow, and the quantity may be encreased to an hundred acres, the greatest part of which may at all seasons of the year be watered from the stream. As this land lies open to the barrens, where there are many hundred acres without timber, and thick set with blue grass, it affords one of the finest ranges in America. The improvements are a good stone dwelling-house, kitchen, spring house, and other necessary out houses. The situation is about two miles from Shenandoah river, and ten from Harper's ferry on Potomack. Upon paying a part of the money in hand, a long credit will be given for the remainder. For further particulars and a view of the premises inquire of JOHN GAUNTT.

August 12, 1784.
